Workshop "Introduction to (Crop) Epigenetics" was organized in Italy as part of the activities in WP1 Strengthening scientific capacity, task 1.1. The workshop was held at the Agripolis campus of the University of Padua.

During the workshop participants were provided with a systematic and comprehensive overview of the main mechanisms of epigenetic changes.

STSM for researchers

February 06-17, 2023 Rostock

Our Dr. Svetlana Glogovac from IFVCNS broke the ice and participated in the first Short-Term Scientific Mission (STSM) of the CROPINNO project at the University of Rostock, Germany.

During her 2-week training, she learned about phenotyping for drought tolerance.

Main goal of the training was to improve excellence and scientific capacity of IFVCNS research staff in the field of phenotyping and multi-omics technologies.
